FlourishDx

FlourishDx combines technology, consulting and education to support businesses to understand their psychosocial risks and create psychologically healthy and safe workplaces.

The FlourishDx platform provides a psychosocial risk assessment that uses algorithms to enable organisations to quickly and accurately identify hotspots of psychosocial risk, predict likelihood and consequence of harm, and link hazards with potential business outcomes including staff burnout, intention to resign, and job dissatisfaction. The psychosocial risk assessment is supported with consultation, action planning features and recommendation of potential solutions to meet WHS regulatory requirements to address psychological risks and/or adopt international best practice (such as ISO 45003:2021).
