

EMPLOYERS MUTUAL LIMITED AGM

FAQ's

Who is Employers Mutual Limited?

The EML Group is a specialist in personal injury claims management. Employers Mutual Limited, is a member of the EML Group.

Employers Mutual Limited was established in 1910 as a mutual company and is owned by its members. Eligibility for membership is defined in the Constitution. It is governed by an independent board of directors and profits are reinvested for the benefit of members.

Why am I getting this notice for an AGM?

Employers Mutual Limited is a mutual insurance company and employers who hold a workers compensation policy or receive claims management services are members of the Mutual, and as such have the right to vote at the Annual General Meeting. The AGM is mandated by law and held annually.

As a member of the Mutual do I need to vote?

No, there is no obligation to attend the AGM, appoint a proxy or to vote.

Can I be removed from this mailing list?

All members of the Mutual are entitled to attend and vote at the AGM and under law must be provided notice of the AGM.