

Support in Rural Communities

There are a range of support services that you, your family and support networks may be able to access online and in your local community to supplement the support you are receiving through your workers compensation claim*. This fact-sheet can assist you to locate additional services which could help you in your recovery. Many of these services are free or low cost. The important thing is to find the right support that works for you.

If you need immediate crisis assistance

DIAL 000

Please note that these supports or services are not provided or compensated under your workers compensation claim. These are additional and alternative options that you and your support network may be able to access in the community, online and through the government. Please contact the organisation directly to confirm any specific eligibility criteria, what services they offer and what their process is.*

Rural and Remote Mental Health

T: 1300 515 951
W: rrmh.com.au

Rural and Remote Mental Health offer programs for individuals who live and work in the challenging environments of rural and remote Australia. This includes programs and resources developed for those in mining and resource industries as well as those living in rural agricultural and farming communities.

The Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists (RANCP)

W: ranzcp.org/practice-education/rural-psychiatry

RANCP is responsible for training, educating and representing psychiatrists in Australia and New Zealand. They have resources and links on their website to assist providers in rural settings.

Black Dog Institute

Black Dog provides e-Mental health programs:

W: health.nsw.gov.au/carers/Pages/resources-for-carers.aspx

Health practitioners in rural areas have access to additional support through the provision of education and training material they can access remotely via the internet.

Services for Australian Rural and Remote Allied Health (SARRAH)

W: sarrah.org.au

SARRAH represent rural and remote allied health professionals who work in public and private areas, including pharmacists, psychologists and social workers.

Salvation Army

W: salvationarmy.org.au/need-help

The Salvation Army provides social services across a wide range of areas such as housing, finding employment, family and domestic violence, homelessness, rural support and youth services.

Centre for Rural and Remote Mental Health

W: crrmh.com.au

Centre for Rural and Remote Mental Health aims to bring quality education and research programs to all rural areas of NSW through effective partnerships and self-help tools.

Rural Aid

W: ruralaid.org.au

Rural Aid's assistance for primary producers includes wellbeing support, fodder support, domestic water deliveries, financial assistance, farm volunteers, educational resources and other supports.

The EML Group is made up of a group of companies owned and operated by a partnership between Employers Mutual Limited & The Trustee For ASFM Management Trust ABN 23 923 166 503, providing personal injury claims management and administrative services across the workers compensation, life insurance and accident industries.

This material is provided for general information purposes only and is not intended as medical advice. The EML Group does not recommend or endorse any specific organisation, opinion, or information provided in this material.

The EML Group takes no responsibility for any errors, omissions or inaccuracies included in the material provided. Please verify details directly with the relevant organisations.

EML Group
T: 1800 469 931 (toll free)
W: info@eml.com.au

We help people get their lives back.